What service do we provide?

You will not receive advice or a recommendation from us. We will ask some questions to narrow down the selection of products. You will then need to make your own choice about how to proceed.

Your obligations to Us

You have an obligation to provide accurate information in response to our questions and to take care not to make a misrepresentation in connection with your policy.

You have an obligation to pay premiums and fees you are contracted to.

Once cover has been arranged, you must immediately notify us of any changes to the information that has been previously provided. The most serious consequence of failing to provide full and accurate information before you take out insurance, or when your circumstances change, could be the invalidation of your cover. In that instance it would mean that a claim will be rejected.

Paying for your policy

We act as agents of the insurer in collecting premiums and handling refunds due to clients, such monies are deemed to be held by the insurer with which your insurance is arranged.

Should there be an outstanding balance on the cancellation of your policy, we will attempt to recover this from you. If we are unable to recover the debt we will pass details of the debt to a debt collection agency. Should this action be required, all associated costs and charges incurred by us will be passed onto you.

Paying in full or in part by payment card

If you give continuous payment authority, you can opt out of the agreement at any time by contacting us. By agreeing to allow continuous payment you agree to the following:

- The card being used for future payments such as the collection of any additional premium generated as a result of you making a change to your policy;
- Renewal premium collection (see Automated Renewal section of this document); and
- Collection of payment arrears where applicable.

You can opt out of all of the above or parts of it.

If new card details are provided at any time during the course of your policy, authority will switch to the new card details.

Paying by finance

If you wish to pay your annual premium by instalments, we will pass you over to our sister company, Rostella Limited, which is authorised and regulated by the FCA as a credit broker in the UK.

Insurer Security

Whilst we monitor the financial strength of the insurers with whom we place business it should be noted that the claims-paying ability of even the strongest insurers could be affected by adverse business conditions. We cannot, therefore, guarantee the solvency of any insurer or underwriter. A liability for the premium, whether in full or pro rata, may arise under policies where a participating insurer becomes insolvent.

What will you have to pay us for our services?

We will earn a commission from the insurer on each policy sold. We will also charge the following fees, which are in addition to any insurers premiums.

Fee/Charge	Amount
New Business arrangement fee (non-refundable if the policy is cancelled or voided)	£10

Cancellations

If we or the insurer intend to cancel your policy, we will write to you providing a minimum of 7 days' notice of cancellation. This will be sent to your last known postal or e-mail address, in line with your preference to receive policy documentation.

If you cancel or stop making payments which are due under your premium finance arrangements, this does not constitute cancellation of your policy, which is a separate contract. You must notify us separately.

Cancellation of your policy also means cancellation of any optional products sold to you. No refund of optional product premium is due following the cancellation of any optional products unless this is within the 14-day cooling-off period and no claims have occurred. The cooling-off period starts from the time you have access to your policy documents online, i.e. when you bought the policy.

Automatic renewal

To make renewal easier for you, if you have given us permission your policy will be renewed automatically using the payment details you have previously given.

We will only automatically renew your policy after issuing you with a renewal notice approximately 21 days before the end of your policy. If you do not want us to automatically renew your cover, you must contact us more than 3 days before your renewal date and advise us accordingly. If you are not the card or bank account holder you must ensure that the card/account holder has agreed to make the renewal payment and you must tell them of any changes to the amount. Your renewal payment will be taken from your bank account on or around the renewal date. If you are paying by premium finance, the finance provider will contact you separately with details of your new instalment arrangements.

Please check your renewal notice for further details when it is available to you.

Automatic renewal will also apply to any optional products you select to purchase with your car or van insurance policies.
